

CASCADE FRIENDS CAMP 2008

Conduct and Dress

In the effort to provide an atmosphere where it is easy to focus on the spiritual, rather than the physical, we ask our campers to please show respect for our staff by obeying their instructions and following the rules of the camp. The rules of the camp are subject to change without notice, at the discretion of Cascade Friends Board of Directors.

Shirts must be long enough to cover midriffs, and may not be spaghetti strap or strapless, or have low neck lines. Shorts must come near to the kneecap or may be longer. No clothing with offensive messages or pictures will be allowed.

Flip flops and sandals will not be allowed while participating in the daily activities. Please make sure to bring footwear that will fully cover your feet.

No tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, non-prescription drugs, or weapons of any kind will be allowed at camp; and stealing, using profanity, abusing camp facilities, and leaving the campground will not be tolerated.

Proper relationships between males and females shall be maintained at all times. Campers will please refrain from public displays of affection, including holding hands.
